

EMAIL DEFENDER

Improved Productivity.

Less Down Time.

Lower Network Support Costs.

Is your staff experiencing lost productivity from excessive junk email?

Is your staff complaining of offensive email content?

Are you concerned about email viruses that will compromise the security and stability of your network?

These are just a few reasons to consider Secant's Email Defender Solution.

Today, 93% of all email is junk email. A majority of all viruses are distributed through email. Secant's solution can eliminate 99% of the junk email before it ever gets to your mail server. Email (including attachments) containing viruses will be blocked before they ever enter your network. Improved security translates into improved productivity, less down time, and lower network support costs.

Other benefits you will realize with Secant's Email Defender Solution:

- The elimination of junk email cleans and improves your internet connection
- Questionable email is tagged for individual user review
- Mail queuing stores mail for later delivery if your email server is off line for any reason
- Mail directed to undeliverable addresses is eliminated (especially useful for Exchange installations)
- Secant's experienced network engineers are available to help monitor and manage your company and user profiles
- Low initial investment since no hardware or software purchase is required
- Rapid deployment provides immediate relief to your staff
- Virus signatures are updated regularly at hour intervals
- Pricing is based on the number of email boxes and billed on a monthly/quarterly basis
- Training is included for network administrators
